The signed deed for an addition of 120 acres to Point Lobos State Reserve has been sent to the State Division of Beaches and Parks by Herman, Andrew and Agnes Marks, Salinas conservationists, according to John McDaniels, chairman of the local Nature Conservancy chapter.

The gift to the state from the Marks family means that the stand of rare dwarf Gowan cypress trees on the property east of Highway One will be preserved. A restriction in the deed is that only walking trails shall be allowed in the acreage which includes Gibson Canyon and a stand of redwoods. From the highest point of the land there is a fine view of the coast.

An additional 20 acres in the area has been given by the Markses to St. John's College, Annapolis, with a 20-year restriction stating that if the land is not used by the college in this time, it shall revert to the state and be added to Point Lobos Reserve.

A continued public hearing on the granting of a liquor license to Cypress West Hotel will be heard on May 10 at 9:00 o'clock in the morning in the council chambers at Carmel City Hall.

First hearing was given the matter last month. Dr. K. Fillmore Gray of the Church of the Wayfarer protested the license at that time.

Carmel Recreation Commissioners stressed at their Tuesday meeting one of the main points from their recent study on recreation areas—that the City of Carmel can legally accept land in, adjacent to, or outside the city limits for recreation and park purposes.

Then they outlined a five-question approach to the problem: 1. Is the general plan adequate for immediate and future needs in the

A Suggestion —

Last week the City Council jumped the gun on the parking issue and didn't wait for the report from the planning commission. It seems that a few thinkers could come up with a few ideas to solve the parking situation—one for example would save many parking stalls, and that would be for the city fathers to get together with the street department and work out a plan whereby one side of each street could be used for the Foreign or so-called compact car—shortening the parking stalls—and the other side of the street could be used for the standard sized cars, so let's use up a little more white paint and save the small merchants that double city business license fee.—C.C.

William Purdy, above, teaches music at Sunset School. Since the age of 16 he has won numerous awards for his musical compositions. On April 28 and May 6, a one-act opera he has written, The Marriage Proposal, based on a Chekhov story, will be presented at Monterey Peninsula College. The principal roles in the production will be sung by Larry Swanson, Karen Steinke and John Farr.

Mr. Purdy received his bachelor's degree from San Jose State College. He was awarded a master's degree from Mills College where he studied composition with Darius Milhaud.

State Rehabilitation Service Proposes P. O. Vending Stand

The California State Rehabilitation Service has applied to the post office department for permission to install a vending stand in the lobby of the Carmel Post Office, according to Postmaster Fred Strong who is preparing a report on the matter for the San Francisco regional director of the post office department.

Location of the stand, 14 feet long by six feet wide, and to be operated by a visually handicapped person, is proposed by the rehabilitation service for the corner opposite the mail drops at the main post office entrance where writing stands are now placed. These would be moved elsewhere, Mr. Strong says.

In his report to the regional director, he will state the circumstances of the post office, community reaction to the stand and the physical layout of the post office lobby.

The Carmel Lions Club has gone on record of approving the stand, in accordance with their aid to the visually handicapped program.

Yesterday, George R. Walker, attorney for Mrs. P. Lee, owner of the post office premises, stated that some tenants in the building object to the stand as it might compete with their business.

Leases of the tenants in the Lee building contain a clause to the effect that no competing businesses will be allowed in the structure, he added.

Therefore, Mr. Walker said, Mrs. Lee felt an obligation to "do something." Planned is a letter to Postmaster Strong stating the objections to the stand because of the lease covenant made by Mrs. Lee to her tenants.

Mr. Strong says he understands that items for sale at the stand

Neill Objects To Jr. High $65,100 Budget Increase

The board of education of the Carmel Unified School District voted last night to call for bids on equipment for Carmel Junior High School, based on a new equipment budget of $142,100 which is $65,100 over the figure of $77,000 allowed for equipment in the original junior high budget.

Two board members balked at the decision. Dr. Richard Snyder said his objection was a procedural one. He thought the budget should have been adjusted earlier to meet the more realistic figure. Clayton Neill, Jr. was the sole dissenting voice against the vote, however. He said he hated to see the district's $94,926 contingency fund being wiped out "when we still have the possible threat of a sewer hanging over us."

The new equipment budget, prepared by Dr. Walter Klas, Junior High principal, included the district's share of certain foreign language, science and math equipment which had been previously approved for National Defense Education Act funds. The district's half on these will be $7,000, $5,000 and $2,000 respectively.

Among other major equipment items requested in the new, higher budget are shop, $14,000; music, $4,000; physical education, $12,000; library, $6,000. The physical education figure was among items included in the basic contract for construction.

Landscaping also went up over the original budget from $40,900 to $70,000. However, the original figure itself had been a cut-back proposal made when architects had feared the basic cost of construction would be larger than it was.

The larger figure will pay for the originally hoped-for larger shrubs and plants to produce a better landscaping effect earlier, additional top soil, outdoor lighting, drinking fountains and an irrigation system.

Late in the discussion, Neill still voiced objection to the revised budget figures however. "When a saving like this (estimated saving on the basic bid was $200,280) takes place," Neill said, "We are morally obligated to return the money to the taxpayer." And the

Benefit June 10 For Forest Theater Sunday Programs

Arts commissioners learned from Commissioner Glenn Kearns, yesterday afternoon, that a benefit for the Forest Theater Sunday free programs will take place on June 10. Herb Miller's band has been engaged for this occasion.

The regular Sunday afternoon programs will start on June 17 and end with a return of the Forest Theater Revival Of Inchling Included In Summer Recreation Program Plans For Children . . If . .

Anyone remember Inchling, the make-believe inchworm who measured off the spring greenery and gamboled with mosquitoes, butterflies and bees?

As much a part of early Carmel as Devendorf Plaza and the Abalone League, Inchling was the often-performed three-act fantasy written by Ira Remsen which was premiered amid much enthusiasm in August, 1922, at the Forest Theater.

If a director for Inchling can be found and if sufficient enthusiasm for the project is forthcoming, Mrs. Roderick Wilson, member of the Carmel School District Recreation Committee, says, Inchling might again be produced this summer with a whole new generation of youngsters taking the woodsy roles of beetles, bugs and assorted larvae.

Mention of the possible project came up at a recent meeting of the committee and reaction of the committee members seemed to indicate support for the venture if enough Carmelites are interested. If.

Interest was no problem at that first performance of Inchling just 40 years ago this summer, when nearly everyone in town turned out either to applaud or help with the production.

Miss Blanche Tolmie of Carmel directed the first performance of the play, which had been penned by playwright Remsen when, like Lewis Carroll, he had been called upon to exercise his imagination for the entertainment of a little girl, a friend of his when he lived in the Adirondacks.

Remsen, who before he moved to Carmel had done costume and stage design, worked with Wilhelmina Wilkes and Eugene O'Neill and with the Provincetown Players, brought his talents to bear on the local performance with great zeal.

Playing the title role that year was Walter Flanders, destined to be the first in a long list of Carmel youngsters who donned the green larva costume to perform the part of the son of Mr. and Mrs. Inchworm.

Other well-remembered Carmelites who helped produce and direct, or who were in the large cast which capered on the Forest Theater stage, included George Dorwart and Owen White, a Miss Gadsen who did the choreography and herself performed the butterfly dance, Thomas Vincent Cator who wrote the music, Jack Williamson who was in charge of lighting, Hilda Wallace Argo in charge of publicity, Mrs. Rhoda Johnson who was wardrobe mistress (a herculean job), Marian Boke, Tal and Winsor Josselyn, Louise Prince, Mrs. M. H. Anson, Stanley Pullen

ELECTION RESULTS

Tuesday's municipal election was a close race between four candidates. Victors were James C. Buffington and Herbert B. Blanks. They will take their seats as Carmel's new councilmen at the council meeting next Tuesday.

Mr. Buffington took first place in the balloting with two more votes than Mr. Blanks. Mrs. Jean T. Chitwood was third with 45 votes less than Blanks and five more votes than Gunnar Norberg. Warren Edwards had 206 votes less than Mr. Norberg.

Only 44.4 percent of 2954 registered voters cast ballots, the lowest city vote since 1954, and the second lowest in 12 years.

Total votes each candidate received were as follows: Buffington, 570; Blanks, 568; Chitwood, 523; Norberg, 518; Edwards, 312.

MPC BONDS CARRY

Carmel Unified School District voters turned out in greater numbers than the rest of the Peninsula to cast ballots Tuesday in the $2,240,000 bond election to purchase Monterey Peninsula College campus from Monterey Union High School District.

The bonds were approved in this district by a 79.5 percent plurality as compared to 76.6 percent for the rest of the Peninsula-wide junior college district.

Ballots cast in the bond election in Carmel district were: Del Monte Lodge—Yes 90, No 38; Woods School—Yes 346, No 107; Sunset School—Yes. 442, No 168; Carmel Highlands Fire House—Yes 99, No 15; Carmel High School—Yes 500, No 83; Carmelo School—Yes 133, No 22; Tularcitos School—Yes 170, No 33.

PADRE TENNIS TEAM NEARS LEAGUE TITLE

Coach Harold Lippstreu's Carmel High tennis squad jumped a big hurdle on its way to the 1962 CCAL B-division tennis chmapionship last Saturday when it took the measure of the classy Monterey High squad, 4 to 3. The Carmel lads met their stiffest opposition of the season at Monterey and are grateful they won't have to meet the Toreadores in a rematch. The rest of the league matches appear to be smooth sailing for the well-knit Padre squad, and the tennis championship should remain with the Red and Gray for another year.

In notching the big one over Monterey, Page van Loben Sels clipped Jim Brock, 6-4, 6-1; Stan Cummings defeated Brian Ariss, 10-8, 6-1; the Carmel doubles team of van Loben Sels and Pete Steffen defeated Monterey's Lockhart and Rhoda, 6-1, 4-6, 6-4; and the Carmel duo of Cummings and Craig Olsen whipped Monterey's Brock and Boulder, 6-4, 6-3.

This Saturday morning the Padre racquet-wielders travel to Santa Cruz for league matches with the Cardinals.

DICK SHIVELY WINS HIGH JUMP AT KING CITY

Carmel High School's ace high jumper, Dick Shively, took on some of the best leapers in Northern California at the King City Invitational Track Meet last Saturday and again proved himself one of the top prep high-jumpers in the area by clearing 6 feet-½ inch to cop the first-place medal. The slender senior has been over six-feet in the last three meets and should be tough to beat in the big CCAL Meet. Rick Baldwin was the only other Padre to hit the score column, picking up a fifth in the 180-yard low hurdles.

Monterey High's talent-loaded varsity and lightweight squads won both divisions of the King City Invitational, scoring 31 points to edge Salinas in the varsity division, and piling up 25½ points to beat the Cowboys in the lightweight class. Carmel's lightweight team scored some points, but they were garnered by illegal lightweights.

This Saturday the Padre thinclads travel to Morgan Hill for the CCAL B-division Relays at the Live Oak High School oval. Since no team has shown outstanding power in the dual meets, this meet should be a mad scramble and should provide some of the best competition of the season.

LITTLE LEAGUE FINAL TRYOUTS THIS SATURDAY P. M.

At 1:00 o'clock, this Saturday afternoon on the Carmel High School baseball field, directors of the Carmel Little League will hold the third and final tryout session for the 1962 season. It is extremely important that boys who have attended only one tryout session be present for Saturday's workout, since each candidate must participate in two tryouts in order to be considered for one of the Major League teams. Player Agent Henry Newman and Little League managers will gather at Sunset School's Library Monday night to conduct the annual draft of the new players and round out the rosters for the current season. After the managers have made their auction choices, they will personally notify the players chosen for the six teams.

With opening day only three weeks away, the 1962 chase for the Carmel 1962 pennant shapes up as a ding-dong affair with any of the six teams capable of copping the championship. All the teams are equipped with talented veterans, and the tryout sessions have uncovered some outstanding performers who will grace the Little League picture. League directors have arranged for a triple-header on opening day so each player will have an opportunity to get his feet wet before the big crowd which attends the opener. As the schedule is rigged, Turner & McEldowney will clash with P. A. Macs in the May 5 opening game at 11:00 o'clock; Sport Shop will test Boys Town at 1:15; and Pilot Market will cross bats with Wilder & Jones in the 3:30 fracas. Opening day ceremonies are slated to take place at 12:45. Expert prognosticators on Little League affairs like the chances of Turner & McEldowney and Pilot Market in this year's race. Both teams are studded with experienced players and have a strong desire to win. T & M had rough sledding in the league last season and knows how it feels to be in the cellar, while the Pilot Market crew was runner-up last year and knows how it feels to be nosed out of first place. The new entry in this season's chase is the P. A. Macs nine which is taking the place of the championship Carmel Realty club. The Macs have inherited the Carmel Realty personnel, and the Miller-trained players are always tough to beat. Sport Shop, Wilder & Jones, and Boys' Town present well-balanced teams which could pick up all the marbles before the long haul is over.

PONY LEAGUE SIGN-UP

At a board of directors meeting of the Carmel Pony League last Monday night, league president, Ralph Thompson announced that all boys of 13 years and those who have not reached the age of 15 by August 1 of this year are invited to sign up for tryouts in the Pony League.

The date for these sign-ups will be April 19 at the Music Room of the Carmel High School from 7:30 p.m. to 9:00 p.m. Interested boys must be accompanied by at least one parent or guardian.

Thompson also appointed Bill Woolsey, Bob Baugh and George Macy to work out the schedule for the Pony League teams that will open their season on June 11 at the Carmelo school playing field.

Included in the business of this meeting was the assignment of tickets to the managers of the league teams, for the pancake breakfast that will be held at the Monterey Fair Grounds on Saturday, April 28. It is hoped that this event will raise money for operational expenses for all of the youth baseball teams in the area.

Art On The Peninsula

The second anniversary of the Laky Galleries on the east side of San Carlos Street above Sixth Avenue, is being celebrated by a collective show of the work of 52 artists who have shown their work there during the past two years.

The show opened Saturday and will be on display until the end of the month.

Zyta and Les Laky, owners of the gallery, will set aside ten percent of the gross proceeds of sales during the anniversary exhibit as a scholarship fund for a talented art student. A committee of professional artists will select the scholarship recipient from Peninsula school students.

Artists whose work is exhibited in the collective show are Rita Barber, Joseph Bennett, Hal Blake, James Blacketer, Leverett Boruszak, Lodewijk Bruckman, Louise Cardeiro, Michele Cascella,, Sam Colburn, Jesse Corsaut, Ethlyn Crouch, Patricia Cunningham, Olof Dahlstrand, Linford Donovan, Marjorie Doolittle, Wayne Dye, Nick M. Guestella,, Armin Hansen, Pearl Houk, Jean - Pierre Joliffe - Conin, Irene Lagorio, Emile Lahner, Zyta Laky, Bruce Lattig, Thomas C. Leighton, Margerie Lester, Louis Markos, Rip Matteson, Laura Maxwell, Thomas A. McGlynn, Louise McNeir, Rosemary Miner, Feg Murray, Frank H. Myers, John O'Shea, Henrietta Pearce, W. Stanley Pearce, Richard Pearsall, William P. Silva, Hans Skaalegaard, Lloyd M. Strathearn, Alice Stukenbroeker, Russell Swan, Jack N. Swanson, Donald Teague, Harry Timmins, Giorgio Valenzin, William van der Sluis, Abel G. Warshawsky, Beatrice M. Wheelock, S. C. Yuan, and Margaret Ziegler.

A one-man show of recent gouaches by Gerald Wasserman will be on exhibit at the Carmel Art Association Galleries through May 1. The artist, who recently returned from Europe, stresses that the pictures in this show are "modern painting rooted in antiquity."

His work is the most interesting and challenging seen on the Peninsula in a long time.

Until April 19, paintings by Richard Yip will be shown at the Museum of Natural History, Pacific Grove. Subjects include the Monterey Peninsula, Northern California, Mount Diablo.

For the past 12 years, Mr. Yip has conducted painting classes at the University of the Pacific, Stockton College, also annual painting tours to the Monterey Peninsula and 20 other localities in California and Arizona.

He has received awards for his watercolors and painted in China, Mexico and Italy. He is listed in Who's Who in American Art and Who's Who of the West. He is a life fellow of the International Institute of Arts and Letters.

The public may view the Yip show without charge from 10:00 o'clock until 5:00 o'clock, daily, except Monday.

An over-lifesize head of David Walton by sculptress Liesel Wurzmann, is currently being shown at the Carmel Art Association Galleries.

Mrs. Kristoferson

A visitor to Carmel, Mrs. Marie Kristoferson of Seattle, died unexpectedly Sunday night in a local hotel.

Born February 2, 1897, Mrs. Kristoferson had come to Carmel on April 4. She is survived by a son, Alfred Kristoferson of Seattle. Funeral arrangements were made in Seattle.

First Services Of New Church Group In Carmel May 6

A new Peninsula church group, which has bought three acres on Carmel Hill for a future building site, will hold its first Sunday services in Carmel on May 6.

The organization, a Unitarian-Universalist society which has taken the name Church in the Round, will open its doors to members and visitors on May 6 at 11:00 o'clock in the morning at the Cypress Club on Lincoln Street between Seventh and Eighth avenues.

Among the distinguishing features of the new group will be occasional group participation services in which responsibility is passed around among members, and the conduct of the most important church business at quarterly meetings-in-the-round.

Preliminary plans have also been drawn for an arena-style church building which the society will construct in the future on the Carmel Hill site, which lies at the intersection of Highway One and Aguajito Road. The group is purchasing the land from Del Monte Properties.

The Reverend Karel V. Vit, who resigned nine months ago as minister of the Unitarian Church of the Monterey Peninsula, has been asked by Church in the Round members to assist the new group, many members of which were formerly members of the Monterey church.

The new society has asked the Monterey church for endorsement, and has applied to the Unitarian Universalist Association of Boston, Massachusetts, for affiliation.

A preliminary program for young people will be instituted along with the regular Sunday morning services, with a full Sunday School program to be launched in September, based on the Unitarian Universalist church school curriculum.

Marjorie Perez

Funeral rites were held Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Marjorie Grant Perez, who died Friday morning in a local hospital after a brief period of illness.

A Carmelite for the past nine years, Mrs. Perez was a native of Ithaca, New York, where she was born February 7, 1878. Before coming to Carmel in 1953 to make her home, she lived at Desert Hot Springs. During her residence here, she made her home at Dolores Street and Third Avenue.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Gladys Hamilton of Carmel; a son, Stanley E. Perez of Ithaca; a grandson, Ralph B. Hamilton, Jr., and a great grandson, Steven Hamilton, both of Lompoc.

The Reverend Harvey E. Buck of St. Mary's-by-the-Sea Episcopal Church, Pacific Grove, officiated at the services, held in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

MEN AND BOYS CHOIR MAKES DEBUT AT ALL SAINTS'

The first performance of a new men and boys choir will be heard at the 9:15 o'clock Family Service on Palm Sunday morning in All Saints' Episcopal Church. Under the combined direction of Robert M. Forbes and the Rev. H. M. M. Nicholas, the new choir will sing The Holy Communion service and take part in the dramatic reading of the Passion Narrative according to St. Matthew.

The ancient custom of reading the Passion during Holy Week will occur daily in the local Episcopal parish at the several celebrations of The Holy Communion—Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock; Tuesday morning at 8:00; Wednesday morning at 10:30; and Maundy Thursday at 10:30 in the morning and at 8:00 o'clock in the evening.

Hummingbird lovers have a hard time keeping bees out of the sweet solution in feeders near their homes, Hal Armor reports. He says Charlie Nason had the experience of a swarm of bees hanging from one of his feeders recently. Finally the swarm got so heavy it fell off.

Mr. Armor says that hummingbirds will generally fight off bees trying to steal food from the feeders, but, he adds, he heard about one instance where a bee repeatedly crawled into the narrow glass feeder, gathered the sweet solution on its body, then crawled back to the top where its pals collected its loot and flew to the hive.

Answer to the hummingbird-bee problem is not too sweet a feeding solution, Mr. Armor advises.

Martha Aldous

Mrs. Martha F. Aldous died yesterday afternoon in a local hospital after a brief period of failing health.

Born August 12, 1896, in Minneapolis, Minnesota, Mrs. Aldous had moved to Carmel from San Jose in 1950 with her husband, Wildrid C. Aldous, who was until his retirement in 1959, associated with Reynolds and Company here.

As recently as two weeks ago, the couple had purchased a new home at 2809 Raccoon Road, Pebble Beach.

Mrs. Aldous was a member of St. Peter's Episcopal Church in Chicago, the Monterey Peninsula Voluntary Services and the Carmel Republican Women's Club.

She leaves, in addition to Mr. Aldous, a sister-in-law, Mrs. Chas. A. Flannery of Laguna Beach; a niece, Mrs. Colonel F. Betz of San Mateo, and a nephew, Charles H. Flannery of San Marino.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock in the Paul Mortuary chapel, with Reverend Bernard N. Lovgren of St. John's Chapel officiating. Concluding services and interment will follow at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale, on Monday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock.

Friends of Mrs. Aldous may make contributions in her memory to the American Cancer Society, P. O. Box 1028, Monterey.

Ready For Stories? San Francisco Fire Reunion Wednesday

Notices about the second annual reunion of the Monterey County Fire Watch went out this week to a mailing list of 60 county residents who were in San Francisco on April 18, 1906, date of the fire and earthquake which turned out to be one of the worst civil disasters in history.

The Watch will meet for luncheon next Wednesday at noon in La Playa Hotel.

Although the Fire Watch, believed to be the only such group outside the Bay city, has insisted for the first year of its existence that it is not an organization, abhors dues, shuns committees, yet certain individuals have emerged as leaders of the group, including former State Senator Ed Tickle of Carmel, Dr. Walter Anderson of Pebble Beach, Shirley Houghton and Allen Knight, of Carmel.

Reservations for the luncheon meeting may be made by eligible "watchers" by telephoning La Playa.

ON DEATH VALLEY TRIP

Mrs. Edward Kuster and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Bissantz left Carmel last Wednesday for a two-week trip to Death Valley. Mrs. Kuster reports by postcard that they are "literally tire deep in wildflowers."

On their way south they stopped for a day in San Luis Obispo to visit Mrs. Kuster's son, Colin, a student at California Polytechnic College, her daughter-in-law, Sylvia, and her two small grandchildren, Scott and Jayanne.

Music On The Peninsula

By Mary Lindsay-Oliver

The chamber group of the Monterey County Symphony Orchestra, some 20 players, performed an interesting program recently at Monterey Peninsula College, free to the public, in the delightful new music hall on campus. Conducted by John Gosling, Bach's No. 2 Concerto grosso in F major, was given a rendering heard under the best of conditions. It proved to be one of particular accomplishment to which Raymond Fabrizio, flutist, Richard Grand, oboe, Charles Brady, trumpet, and John Erickson, violin, were the contributing soloists. The joyful feeling and rhythms of its allegro, andante and allegro assai movements completely carried away the audience on Spring winds of happiness. And the performers received enthusiastic appreciation from the full house. Schubert's Symphony No. 5 in B flat was given a performance that further qualified the players.

The MPC Brass Choir played a Gabrielli sonata. Three pieces by Pezel opened the program. That we have now a competent chamber orchestra, as well as the larger one, is due to the interest and industry of John Gosling. He has accomplished much in his first season in Carmel. The American Federation of Musicians, Local 616, through a grant from the Recording Industries' Trust Fund, made possible this concert "to help create greater interest in live music performances," and we hope next season will bring us a series of chamber works. Rehearsals are now under way for the final Symphony concerts in May which include a "Pops" concert for everyone at the Fairgrounds on May 13.

Sunday evening found me at The Sticky Wicket at Aptos to hear the tenth Spring program under director Robert Hughes. It included two of our local composers, Lansdale Podberewski and Philippe Buhler, as well as Mozart and Rimsky-Korsakov. The house was full.

The local composers had drawn me. A worthwhile composition by Lansdale Podberewski for piano and winds was a surprise. Spacial Disturbance was a dramatic and convincing tone expression of its name, an up-to-date concept that should prove noteworthy in future acceptance of her work, for it has the compelling strength of a cosmic utterance not hitherto offered on the subject, I believe, and was effectively played by Patrice Hambleton, flute; Marshall Dahnke, oboe; Curt Bowman, clarinet; Fred Bergstone, horn; Robert Hughes, bassoon; and Joan Goodwin, piano.

A Petite Suite Francaise by Buhler, of which the third piece, Lorraine, was especially attractive in rhythm and tone, was also for piano and winds. Buhler's constant composing should finally develop what he is after, though no single writer can impress everyone. Most commendable is the effort of production and the fact that these two contemporary composers are among those in our community.

Composition is not developed in the very young and it seems a pity to have excluded any above the age of 35 in the coming state contest. The next should provide some ballance by making the age above 35.

Tickets On Sale Now For April 28 Baseball Breakfast

The Northern Monterey County Baseball Breakfast was officially launched this week with the start of ticket sales. The breakfast, set for April 28, 7:00 to 11:00 o'clock in the morning at the Monterey County Fairgrounds, is sponsored by the Monterey Peninsula Board of Realtors for the benefit of organized youth baseball on the Peninsula.

A Ball for All is the theme of the event, with all net proceeds to be contributed to Little League, Pony League, Connie Mack, and Babe Ruth teams. The money will be used for the expansion of these leagues and for purchase of needed uniforms and equipment for the teams.

Tickets, 50 cents, were distributed by General Chairman "Goldy" Goldstein at a meeting of league presidents and representatives. The tickets will be sold by league members or may be purchased at the office of the Monterey Peninsula Board of Realtors, 539 Hartnell, Monterey.

Carmel area ticket chairmen are: Van King and Bill Woolsey; Boyd Huff, Carmel Valley.

Free MPC Showing Of Film, Richard III, Tomorrow Evening

Richard III, Laurence Olivier's epic film production of the Shakespeare play, will be shown tomorrow evening at 8:00 o'clock in the Monterey Peninsula College Armory. The public is invited to attend without charge.

Made in England in 1955, the color film was shown on television before appearing in theaters. Its starring cast— Olivier himself, Sir John Gielgud, Sir Ralph Richardson, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Claire Bloom, Pamela Brown—reads like a Who's Who of British acting.

Olivier produced and directed Richard III in association with Alexander Korda. The music, by William Walton, is played by the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra conducted by Muir Mathieson.

An interwoven pattern of literature, history and legend, the film won three awards (for direction, acting and production) from the British Film Academy; the Silver Bear at the Berlin International Film Festival; and the Golden Laurel for Olivier's "best direction" at the Edinburgh Film Festival. Running time is 155 minutes.

SECOND SUNDAY CONCERT AT NEPENTHE

The fourth annual spring chamber music concert season at Nepenthe opened last Sunday with a concert of baroque cantatas and concerti presented by the San Francisco Chamber Players.

The second pair of concerts, on Sunday at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon and at 8:30 o'clock in the evening, will include the Mozart Trio in G Major, K.564; Beethoven's Variations on "Ich bin der Schneider Kakadu," and Schubert's Trio in B Flat, Op. 99. The performers will be Austin Reller, violin; Helen Stross, cello; and Margaret Fabrizio, piano.

Lenten Evensong

MUSIC SUNG BY LOCAL CHURCH CHOIRS

Since the first program of LENTEN EVENSONG on April 1, KRML Radio has received many favorable comments concerning this program of Lenten and Easter music sung by local Church choirs and played from the world's best classical recordings.

LENTEN EVENSONG is heard daily during KRML's peaceful, closing twilight period, 6:05 p.m. until 6:45 p.m.

This program will sound a responsive chord in the hearts of all those to whom this period, preparatory to the joy of Easter is so meaningful.

In keeping with the theme of LENTEN EVENSONG only the day's "good news" will be presented on the 6:00 p.m. newscast which immediately precedes it.

You are invited to share the spiritual uplifting of LENTEN EVENSONG. To hear once again the music which has comforted man and given him hope throughout the Centuries.

Peter Pan, A Whimsical Fantasy Danced Flawlessly By Members Of The Joanne Nix Ballet Company

A capacity audience at Sunset School Auditorium, Sunday afternoon, enjoyed another outstandingly delightful performance by the students of the Joanne Nix Ballet Company. Sir J. M. Barrie's well remembered story of Peter Pan was brought to life by these young and talented artists. Their performance was flawless. The choreography a superb interpretation of the whimsical fantasy. The costumes beautiful and colorful. The sets just right for the imagination to clasp onto and soar to each viewer's secret additions to that wonderful land of fairy stories.

The rapport between audience and performers was obvious on little faces shining with exalted joy, and in the pirouetting and simulated ballet steps in the lobby during intermission. This truest form of art, the ballet, will leave a lasting memory of happiness to the little beholders that no television or movie could ever compete with.

Joanne Nix is to be congratulated on this latest presentation, also for adding to the cultural charm of Carmel.

The entire cast is to be complimented on the perfection of their performances. The ferocious and handsomely costumed Captain Hook, interpreted by Dale Lefler, added just the soupcon of menace that enriched the story.

Sherrie Nix was a joyous and believable Peter Pan. Her choreography a symphony of grace and rhythm, her costume perfection. The poignancy of her acting in the parting scene again revealed her acting ability. It sent a little wave of sympathy and understanding through the vast audience that was in itself an appreciation of her excellent performance.

Stephenie Cummings's Tinker Bell was the embodiment of charm and grace. Carole Stewart's Wendy was the necessary complement to Peter Pan. Shiela Grunwalt as John; Darian Hopkins as Michael, carried out their roles admirably.

Sandra Simard, Ann Sumida, Christine Durney, Joanne Louise Nix, Patricia Herrera, and Michele Buhler danced the Tree Ballet, a notable piece of choreography and costuming. Suzanne Simard was a winsome stag. Pamela Beales Patterson ably interpreted the varied roles of Nana, Mist, and Tiger Lily.

Sprites Margo Pearson, Wendy Lefler, Barit Keeble, Carol Sortais, and Nicki Buhler, the Lost Boys, won the hearts of the audience.

Sandra Simard, Christine Durney, Joanne Louise Nix, Suzanne Simard, Pat Herrera, and Michele Buhler were gorgeously costumed pirates. The Indians were Colleen Cabral, Gwen Bennett, Joey Hopkins, Lark Ekstrum, and Ann Sumida.

CHURCH WOMEN'S PROJECT FOR MAY FELLOWSHIP DAY

Health kits for children of migrant workers in this area of California form the project of the United Church Women for May Fellowship Day, May 4. The kits include soap, wash cloth, toothbrush, toothpaste, comb and small mirror enclosed in a plastic bag. They should be taken to the meeting at Fort Ord Post Chapel, beginning at 10:30 o'clock in the morning.

The program is being arranged by the post chaplain, with lunch served at noon and a further program at 1:00 o'clock. Those who attended the meeting there last May are anticipating an inspiring day. The children's health kits and the special offering will be dedicated to Christian welfare service. The health kits will be distributed among migrant workers in the Gilroy and Hollister area this summer, one of the busiest spots in the state for agricultural harvesting.

East Lynne Opening Evokes Laughter Not Sentimental Tears As Audience Watches First Theatre Melodrama

East Lynne, first produced at the Drury Lane Theatre, London, in 1864, may have sent sentimental Victorians home with soggy handkerchiefs, but if any were tear-soaked last week end when the classic melodrama opened at the First Theatre, laughter not sadness was the cause.

The First Theatre audience merrily, several times, followed the hero, heroine, villain, and other members of the cast from the drawing room at East Lynne to a waterside grove, paused in a Parisian garret, and ended up witnessing deathbed scenes in a bedchamber at East Lynne.

But even the untimely demise of Little Willie, followed by that of his repentant mother in the arms of her wronged former husband, failed to harrow the hearts of the space-age audience. Rather, each misadventure, and there were many, evoked hilarity.

The villain was hissed, the hero mocked, and the heroine cheered on her luckless road to ruin and back. All was grist for the mill of merriment, topped by the usual unrestrained First Theatre olio.

Al Olinger jauntily interpreted the debonair villain, Sir Francis Levison. A foil to his evil ways was Archibald Carlyle, the hero, properly played by Tom Emery, who never relaxed his stiff upper lip, neck, back or morals, through many misfortunes and misunderstandings.

Mary Kersting was the pretty, bright-haired blonde heroine, Lady Isabel. She exuded correct pathos, which the audience considered bathos, right through all her unhappiness until, forgiven, she departed this world in the arms of the hero.

Peggy McVearry as the hero's spinster sister, Miss Cornelia Carlyle, won plaudits for a splendid performance. Roselle Weinfield was an excellent Barbara Hare, the lady who unwittingly caused Lady Isabel's disgraceful departure from East Lynne, then captured the hero for herself and, with his aid, added a third member to the East Lynne nursery. The first two were Lady Isabel's poor deserted babes, for whom, in disguise, she returned to act as governess, after the villain left her, wronged.

Paul Hazdovac, as Barbara's father, Justice Hare; Jack Kidwell as Lady Isabel's guardian, Lord Mount Servern; Harry Diveley as Dill, the manservant at East Lynne; Peggy Chandler as Wilson, the gossipy maid of the house; Robert Nixon as a police officer; and Ellie Kidwell, the nurse at East Lynne, added to the merriment of the melodrama. Ann Peterson, Lady Isabel's faithful lady's maid, Joyce, played her role perfectly.

Outstanding among the olio performers was Charlotte Boger, coloratura supreme. Exquisite Sandra Baptiste was a captivating dancer from Hawaii; Lance Lindsey, a handsome, singing troubadour. Butch Williams contributed a fine number. Others who added to the olio fun were Ann Peterson, Peggy McVearry, Peggy Chandler, Mary Kersting, Paul Hazdovac, Roselle Weinfield, Al Olinger, Harry Diveley, and Jack Kidwell.

Rhoda Johnson was responsible for another set of the elegant costumes for which First Theatre productions are famous. Madeleine Hicks assisted her.

Kay Knudsen was in charge of lights; Rosie Beals, properties. Stage manager was Paul Hazdovac; his assistant, Marvin Russell. The fine sets were created by Al and Joyce Olinger.

Susie Lee, as always, presided at the piano in her inimitable manner.

East Lynne, which will play Friday and Saturday nights at 8:30 o'clock until further notice, was directed by Rhea Diveley, known for the excellence of her First Theatre productions.

TOWN HOUSE MEETING TOUR TRANSPORTATION

Europe in Color will be presented by Mrs. Milton Haber Wednesday afternoon at 3:00 o'clock, at the Carmel Foundation Town House meeting. These pictures are especially selected as most beautiful of those taken on her many trips abroad.

Town House announces that anyone lacking transportation for the Monterey Peninsula Volunteer Services Garden Tour to raise money for the Visiting Nurses, is invited to join the members of Town House who are taking the trip by chartered bus leaving Town House at 10:00 o'clock in the morning on May 2, returning to Town House for a bag lunch at noon, and then continuing on the tour of Pebble Beach homes and tea, and back to Town House by 4:00 o'clock. Inquiries about arrangements and prices may be obtained by calling MA 4-1588, Town House office.

East Africa Adventure, an exciting trek from Nairobi to the forbidden shores of Lake Rudolph, will be presented in color motion pictures by Len Stuttman this evening at 8:00 o'clock in Sunset School Auditorium. In addition to narrating the film in person, Mr. Stuttman augments his presentation with on-location recordings.

In the extreme northwestern tip of Kenya, bordering Ethiopia and the Sudan, lies Africa's mystery lake, in an exotic, almost storybook region. This is the film record of an expedition into the northern frontier area of Kanya. In spite of its tremendous size, 180 miles long and 30 miles wide, the lake was little more than a myth less than 75 years ago. Even today, like so much of Africa, the region is shrouded in legend. Remoteness is heightened by the limited means of transportation and methods of communication.

The safari leaves from modern Nairobi to Rumurti in the highlands where Carr Hartley captures game animals for zoos around the world, sometimes lassoing them cowboy fashion. On to the ominous mountain, Ol-lolokwe, legendary elephant graveyard. From the highlands descent is made into the famous Rift Valley. Weird desert life; Beau Geste forts; frontier soldiers; sunshine trickery; mirages in which a jeep seemingly rides over water; are just a few of the adventures of this part of the trek.

Finally the lake! Rainbows of flamingoes, myriads of waterfowl, six-foot Turkana warriors, tribal fishermen and rare fish, sports fishermen hauling in 80-pound perch. Cattle grazing under water with 20-foot crocodiles nearby.

Len Stuttman is an experienced film producer, world traveler, and lecturer. He lives close to the people during his travels, sharing their daily experiences and translating them on film. He has produced motion pictures for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service in Alaska, Coronet Instructional Films, C.B.S.-TV, and others. Chicago-born Len Stuttman enlisted in the Naval Air Corps and served three years in the Pacific theater. He is a graduate of Michigan State University. He was chief cameraman for the Maytag Expedition and for two years was films advisor to the government of India.

Dr. William H. Forestelle, seated, above, has been elected president of the medical staff of the Community Hospital, succeeding Dr. L. Bruce Meyer, standing, Vernon F. Hurd, president of the Board of Trustees, announces.

A general practitioner, Dr. Forestelle lives in Monterey and maintains his offices in Seaside. Dr. Meyer, who lives in Carmel, specializes in orthopedics.

As the new president of the medical staff, Dr. Forestelle is chief-of-staff of the 100 doctors of the Community Hospital. He is also chairman of the executive committee of the medical staff.

Five trustees and six officers of the Community Hospital Board of Trustees were re-elected last week in Colton Hall at Monterey.

Mr. Hurd was re-elected president; Mrs. John M. Marble, vice president; C. T. Hill, secretary; C. Mark Thomas, treasurer; Charles E. Simpson, assistant secretary; and R. Stafford Hughes, assistant treasurer.

Trustees elected their officers following the annual membership meeting at which Shreve M. Archer, Jr., Mrs. F. G. Cruickshank, Mrs. John Marble, Dr. A. Carol McKenney, and Mrs. Samuel F. B. Morse were re-elected trustees. Officers serve one-year terms, while trustees are elected for three-year terms.

Sandor Salgo Tells Music And Programs For Bach Festival

In commemoration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the Bach Festival, July 20-29, Sandor Salgo, festival conductor and music director, has planned performances of all six of Bach's Brandenburg Concerti, The Passion According to St. Matthew, presented in its entirety, and a performance of Jeptha, Handel's seldom heard oratorio.

Music at the Mission, a repeat of last season's highly successful evening program of sacred works, presented at the Carmel Mission Basilica, has also been scheduled.

Among the other compositions of Bach which will be performed are Concerto for Three Harpsichords in C Major, Piccolo Magnificat for soprano and instruments, and Magnificat with four interpolations.

Also programmed are Cantatas No. 50, 55, 152, and 106. In addition, the works of Stradella, Mozart, Albinoni, Byrd, Carissimi, Schuetz, Monteverdi, and Handel will be heard.

Participating in the 1962 festival will be an outstanding array of artists including Cohleen Bischoff, Marie Gibson, Barbara Phillips and Kathrine Schlinger, sopranos; Carolyn Stanford, mezzo-soprano; Florine Hemmings, Pauline Law and Jacqueline Layng, contraltos; Charles Bressler, Richard Riffel and James Schwabacher, tenors; Thomas Paul and James Tippey, basses.

Instrumentalists will be Ludwig Altman, organ; Alice Ehlers, Ralph Linsley and Eileen Washington, harpsichord; Soulima Stravinsky, piano; Robert and Colin Sterne, recorders and other baroque instruments; Walter Trampler, viola d' amore and viola; Eva Heinitz, viola da gamba; Rosemary Waller, violin; Raymond Duste, oboe d'amore and oboe; Edward Haug, baroque trumpet; the Festival Orchestra, Festival Chorale, and Festival Chorus.

The brochure announcing the complete schedule of programs and dates will be in the mail shortly. This year the two weekend programs (Friday, Saturday, Sunday) will be identical, allowing season ticket subscribers to chose either the Friday through Thursday series or the Monday through Sunday series. The special performance at the Carmel Mission Basilica is not included in the season series.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

Christian warfare, in which spiritual good overcomes the evil in human thinking, is a theme of the Lesson-Sermon to be heard Sunday at Christian Science church services.

Scriptual selections will include Paul's exhortation: "The night is far spent, the day is at hand: let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light" (Romans 13). "Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" is the title of the Lesson-Sermon.

This citation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will also be read: "Christians must take up arms against error at home and abroad. They must grapple with sin in themselves and in others, and continue this warfare until they have finished their course. If they keep the faith, they will have the crown of rejoicing" (p. 29).

Mark, Brenda Wed At Highlands

At 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the Highlands Inn Chapel, Brenda Lee Ackroyd, the daughter of Mrs. Russell W. Swan of Pacific Grove, became the bride of Mark Nidever Hildebrand, the son of Evelyn Nidever Hildebrand of Carmel and Carl A. Hildebrand of Carmel Valley.

Brenda was given in marriage by her stepfather, Russell W. Swan, and the ceremony was performed by her uncle, the Reverend Robert F. Anderson of Marin County. The bridegroom's mother, at the organ, played Bach and Oh Promise Me. Two informal bouquets of white chrysanthemums stood on either side of the altar in the little chapel.

The bride wore a full-skirted white wool dress, and her short veil was held by a pearl crown. She carried an old-fashioned nosegay of pale pink carnations circling five pink rosebuds.

The bride's mother wore a beige and white silk print dress with a gardenia corsage and white accessories.

For her son's wedding, Mrs. Hildebrand chose a blue wool suit, a black pillbox hat and a small veil, and black accessories, and a corsage of lilies of the valley and pink sweet peas.

Shortly after the ceremony, Brenda and Mark set off in a red roadster for San Francisco, and will soon jet to Kentucky where Mark is being sent for six weeks by his company, IBM of San Francisco.

After graduating from Carmel High School, Mark spent four years in the Air Force as an electronics engineer.

Family members and a few close friends of the young couple attended the wedding. Out of town relatives and friends here for the ceremony included the bride's grandfather, O. C. Hidde of Van Nuys; her aunts, Mrs. Robert F. Anderson of Marin County, and Mrs. Mildred Woodhouse of North Hollywood; Brenda's uncle, Gerald Hidde of Granada Hills; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Selbicky of Pacific Grove; Mark's sisters, Carol Hildebrand, home for the wedding from a series of dancing engagements in the Orient, and Mrs. John Lombardi (Laurel Dell Hildebrand) and her husband from Daly City; Mrs. Charles W. Hall of Compton, and Miss Laurie Hildebrand of Alameda, aunts of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. George Hildebrand of Santa Rosa, Mark's uncle and aunt, and their daughter, Karen, of San Francisco.

James Baldwin Was Guest

The writer, James Baldwin, who lectured at Monterey Peninsula College on Friday night, was a weekend dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Doner.

An Evening of Music

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Fabrizio gave an informal recital of flute and harpsichord music in the Bixby Creek home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Atkinson on Saturday evening.

Guest of honor was James Baldwin, writer and recent artist-in-residence at Monterey Peninsula College, who was staying at the Fabrizios' while he was on the Peninsula last week.

Others present were Dr. and Mrs. Linden Leavitt, Mr. and Mrs. Max Tadlock, Mr. and Mrs. Don Metts, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Matteson, Mr. and Mrs. Rod Holmgren, Mr. and Mrs. John Erickson, Mr. and Mrs. Ephraim Doner; Mrs. G. E. Hutchcroft, Mrs. Fabrizio's mother, and Mrs. A. R. Fabrizio, Mr. Fabrizio's mother, both from Los Angeles; Miss Angie Machado, Dr. Harvey Marshall, and Frank Dandridge, Mr. Baldwin's manager.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Atkinson are at present in Japan, and the Fabrizios are occupying their home while they are away.

Mrs. Buol Entertains

Three people reminisced about the Montparnasse quarter of Paris at a dinner in Carmel Meadows Thursday evening: Mrs. Ruth Buol, the hostess, Louis Conne, head of the department of sculpture at the University of Zurich, for whom the dinner was given, and Ephraim Doner, Carmel artist.

Other guests were Mrs. Doner, Mr. and Mrs. Jean Conne (Mrs. Conne is Donna Ricca, who will be singing in the Wharf Theater's production of Pipe Dream), Mr. and Mrs. Leo Tanous, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Nelson.

New Daughter For Douglases

Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Douglas (Melinda Scheffer) are the parents of a second daughter, Allison Lynne, who was born April 2 at the Peninsula Community Hospital, and joins an older sister, Laura, 16 months old.

Proud grandparents of the little girl are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Scheffer of Carmel, and Mrs. Robert Douglas of Carmel Highlands.

Mrs. Giusi Back From Italy

Mrs. Valerio Giusi and her daughters, Diana, five, and Livia, three years old, are back in their home on Monte Verde Street after six months in Italy.

They visited Mr. Giusi's parents in Tuscany, spent some of their time in Florence, also stopped in Paris.

Mr. Giusi joined his wife and daughters when they returned to New York and traveled west with them.

The little girls speak beautiful Italian after their sojourn abroad, their father, an instructor in the Italian department of the U. S. Army Language School, reports.

Crileys Off to Mexico

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Criley and their three children, Teddy, Donny and Megan, flew to Los Angeles Friday; the first part of a trip to Mexico.

To the delight of the young Crileys, Friday night was spent in a motel (a brand new experience for them) at International Airport. Saturday, the expedition was joined by Donald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Criley, Jr., of Claremont; then they all flew together to Mazatlan. The Donald Crileys expect to be back in Carmel this week end.

Back from Mexico

Rupert Leach, just back from a month's stay in Mexico, has been telling Carmel friends about his trip, which included visits to Mexico City, Valle de Bravo, Queretaro, Guanajuato, Guadalajara, and Mazatlan.

He spent a full two weeks in Valle de Bravo, he says, the little village which has become well known to many Carmelites through the work done there for the past several years by Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Boyer at the Casa de Alfabetizacion, Laubach Literacy Center.

While there, Mr. Leach made a movie of the operation at the literacy center, and has it on hand now, available for showing to interested Carmel groups.

Very interested in the literacy work himself, Mr. Leach says he feels "there is a tremendous potential for economic progress in Mexico and the elimination of illiteracy is an important factor in such progress."

Sherlie and Gary Are Married

Sherlie Evelyn Patterson and David Gary Appleton, both of Sausalito, were married March 23 at the Church of Christ in Marin City. The 5:30 o'clock ceremony was performed by the Reverend Fred Small.

Sherlie is the daughter of Steve Patterson and the late Mrs. Patterson of Big Sur. Gary, the son of De Witt Appleton of Monterey and Mrs. Phyllis Appleton of Carmel, has two brothers, De Witt Appleton, Jr., of San Anselmo, and Michael Appleton of Carmel.

Grandfather of the bridegroom, the late William Overstreet, was the founder and first publisher of The Pine Cone.

The bride chose an aqua silk suit for her marriage. Her matron of honor, Mrs. Dolores Gonzales of Sausalito, wore a brown and white ensemble. Gary's best man was Costroma Dickens of Marin City.

Following the ceremony a reception was held aboard Gerd Stern's barge in Sausalito.

The newlyweds are both "old" Carmelites. Sherlie is a graduate of Carmel High School and Monterey Peninsula College; she also attended the University of California at Davis. Before her marriage, she was employed as a grocery store manager in Big Sur.

Gary was graduated from Carmel High School and is in the construction business in Sausalito.

At present the young Appletons are living in an ark at Waldo Point, but are planning to remodel a barge in Sausalito and make it their home.

The Byrnes' Mussel Party

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Byrne asked about 60 "mussel loving friends" —at least 20 of them children—to their annual "mussel hustle" at the Carmel Point beach on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Byrne spent the morning mussel gathering. The harvest was cooked over the fire in a mixture of herbs and wine and served with Mrs. Byrne's special dip, to the delight of all.

Carmel Elementary PTA

Testing programs for schools were discussed at the combined meeting of the Carmel Elementary Parent-Teachers Association Tuesday evening at 8:00 o'clock in Sunset School cafeteria.

Dr. Thomas J. Fitzgibbons, of the California Test Bureau in Monterey, spoke. He is former coordinator of guidance in Alton, Illinois, schools, and a graduate of Western Illinois University. He received his PhD. in counseling and guidance from Bradley University.

William Brown Honored

Carmel insurance man William Thomas Brown, Jr., has been named, by his company, manager of the outstanding agency in the nation for 1961.

According to the State Life Insurance Company of Indiana, for which Mr. Brown is an agent in Carmel, the award is based not only on amount of production during the year, but also on such features as persistence, average size and number of policies written, and expansion of the agency.

Mr. Brown, a graduate of the University of Oklahoma, served in the U.S. Navy from 1942 until 1954 when he became an insurance underwriter.

Dr. Meade Spoke Yesterday

On a brief visit to the Peninsula yesterday during a Western lecture tour, Dr. Margaret Mead, noted anthropologist and psychologist, spoke at a reception given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tuttle. Her subject was, California, Home of Political Liveliness.

Dr. Mead, who is associate curator of ethnology at the American Museum of Natural History, on the staff of Columbia University, and the author of several widely read books, came here on the invitation of Mrs. Scott Heath. Her appearance on the Peninsula was on behalf of William K. Stewart's Democratic congressional campaign.

Hosts at the late afternoon reception were Mr. and Mrs. Tuttle and Dr. and Mrs. Heath. Among those serving on various committees for the event were Mrs. Ian Tervét, Mrs. Jerome E. Carlson, Mrs. A. M. Boyd, Mrs. Mary Wright, Saul Weingarten, William Fassett and John Melville.

Dr. Mead's forthcoming book, Women in Mass Society, will be published in September.

Jeanine and John Are Married

Jeanine Joyce Hendrickson of Montecito and John Cole Thompson of Carmel were married March 22 in Reno, and are making their home in Carmel.

Jeanine, who wore a white wool sheath with gold accessories for her marriage, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne G. Hendrickson of Montecito, and has one brother, Lawrence. She attended the University of California at Santa Barbara, where she was affiliated with Kappa Alpha Theta sorority, and also studied at the Berkeley campus.

John's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John M. Thompson of Carmel. His sister is Mrs. Willard Hillyer (Adele Marie Thompson) of Plattsburg, New York, whose husband is a captain in the Air Force. His brother is Milton Thompson of Carmel.

A flamenco guitarist of note, and a Carmel High School graduate, John attended Stanford University and the University of Madrid. He received his bachelor of arts degree from San Francisco State College.

Pine Cone Poets Win Five Awards In California Contest

Five poets whose work has been published during the past year in this paper received awards in the Ad Schuster, Arthur Price contest to discover the best poems published in California newspapers during 1960-61. Prizes were given at the March 25 meeting of the Ina Coolbrith Circle in San Francisco.

First place in the contest went to Mrs. Olivia Young of Pacific Grove for her poem Night For Crying. Mary Child of Berkeley took third place with a poem titled The Day. Winners of honorable mention awards were B. Jo Kinnick of Oakland for Island Us Never; Berenice Minarik of Carmel for Behold a Wreath of Holly; and Ruth Forbes Sherry of San Juan Capistrano for Loss of the Grenadier.

Jeffery Wiecking

The infant son of Lt. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Wiecking of Carmel, Jeffry Stephen, died immediately following his birth Monday in a local hospital, leaving in addition to his parents, two brothers, William and James; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Wiecking of Cleveland, Ohio, and his maternal grandmother, Mrs. Betty St. John of Grand Island, Nebraska.

Graveside services were to be held this morning in Mission Memorial Park, Monterey.

Lt. Wiecking is assigned to the U. S. Naval Postgraduate School in Monterey.

Riders To The Snow

Enjoying a five-day mid-week skiing vacation at Dodge Ridge recently were Marcia and Fred Rider who report that the sun was hot and the skiing wonderful. They spent a night each way in San Francisco as guests of Elisabeth Gilbert, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Gilbert of Carmel, who works for an airline company and has just moved into a new apartment.

Meanwhile, the Riders' young daughter, almost-one-year old Kate, stayed with her grandmother, Mrs. Edward Kuster; and the two basset hound puppies, Pyramus and Thisbe, were installed in a boarding kennel

FIREMEN CONTROL BLAZE AT JUNIOR HIGH SITE

Twenty-three members of the Carmel Volunteer Fire Department responded at 6:49 o'clock this morning to a call to the new junior high school site at the mouth of Carmel Valley. They discovered a pile of scrap lumber on fire, also sawdust, and had the blaze under control before equipment arrived from the Carmel Hill state forestry fire station.

Assistant Superintendent of Schools Wayne Greenfield reports the fire apparently started in sawdust which fell between two by four flooring on which the contractor had placed a cut-off saw.

Damage was charring of the scrap lumber and flooring under the saw.

The Carmel fire department answered the call to the school site, situated outside the city limits, under the mutual aid agreement between the state and Carmel to protect local schools, all of which, except Sunset School, are outside the city limits.

Downcoast - Carmel School Annexation Public Hearing Set

The augmented Monterey County Committee on School District Organization, Monday night, adopted a tentative resolution recommending annexation of two downcoast school districts, Palo Colorado and Captain Cooper (Big Sur), to Carmel Unified School District. Mrs. Howard E. Clark of Carmel offered the resolution.

A public hearing on the annexation will be held on May 14, 7:30 o'clock in the evening, in the Monterey board room.

At a previous augmented county committee meeting, Palo Colorado signified disapproval, and Captain Cooper approval, of the proposed annexation.

At a meeting of the two coast districts with the Carmel district board of education, the latter implied they would not oppose the annexation if it were sought by the coast districts.

The augmented committee's resolution was tentative and the committee may alter, or reverse, the proposal in final recommendations. The committee is on orders from the state to present a master plan of unified school districts in Monterey County by September of 1963.

Monday's resolution was to gain public reaction to the proposed annexation.

Japanese Guitarist To Give Concert Here Saturday Night

The Classic Guitar Society of Carmel will present Jiro Matsuda, (protege of Andres Segovia,) in a public recital on Saturday evening at 8:00 o'clock at the Carmel Art Association Galleries.

Mr. Matsuda was born in Himenji, Japan, in 1933. He started to play the guitar at the age of 14, seeking guidance and instruction when and wherever he could in Japan.

In 1959 he met Andres Segovia and was urged by him to attend summer school in Europe. He studied under Segovia and Alirio Diaz at the Academia at Siena, Italy, later at Santiago de Compostela with Segovia and Jose Thomas Perez.

In London for two years, he studied under John Williams on Segovia's recommendation. In 1961 he won third prize in the International Competition at Orense, Spain.

Mr. Matsuda is on his way home to Japan. He has given concerts in New York, Washington, D.C., Cincinnati, Wichita, Chicago, and Toronto, Canada. After his performance here in Carmel, he will be presented in San Francisco.

Tickets for the recital may be purchased at The Guitar Shop, located across the street from the Carmel Art Association Galleries, prior to the concert.

A WAY OF LIFE FOR $31,500

It's like the illustrations in your childhood story book.
A pleasant, peasant kitchen with a spot to sit and talk,
And a friendly little terrace with a flower-bordered walk.
The woodwork's all handcrafted and the floors are polished oak,
Vaulted, crossbeam ceilings, and the fireplace doesn't smoke.
Bedrooms? Two in number and two studios are there,
(One has a secret entrance by a special kind of stair.)
Completely fenced for children and a dog, a cat or two.
You like informal living? Then this house is really YOU!

Wesley Kergan

Wesley W. Kergan, former Carmel attorney, died on April 3 in Sacramento, his home for the past three years. He was 74 years old.

A native of Michigan, Mr. Kergan moved to Carmel in 1941, and for 18 years was a prominent resident and practicing attorney here, retiring in 1959.

Much of Mr. Kergan's early life was spent in the Bay area. He attended school in Oakland, later graduating from the University of California law school, Boalt Hall, in 1912. For many years his law practice was conducted in Oakland.

Mr. Kergan was a past master of Sequoia Lodge No. 319, F and A M, and a member of Commandery No. 11, Knights Templar. He was also a York and Scottish Rite Mason, a past president of the Carmel Rotary Club, and past national secretary of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Surviving Mr. Kergan are his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Kergan of 2848 Corabel Lane, Sacramento; a daughter, Mrs. Patricia Applegate, and four grandchildren, also of Sacramento.

Private memorial services were held on April 4, with burial following in Sacramento.

Contributions honoring the memory of Mr. Kergan may be made to the Kappa Sigma Endowment Fund, care of First National Bank, Chicago, Illinois.

Only other figure which went up on the revised budget over the old was surfacing, from $15,500 to $20,000, a rise made necessary when the county required an access driveway to the new school which parallels the highway across the front of the property instead of going directly from the campus to the Valley Road.

New figures were available also at last night's meeting on the Association of Carmel Teachers revised teacher pay scale.

To supplement the earlier salary proposal, Charles Moody, chairman of the ACT salary committee, submitted figures showing that adoption of the new schedule would cost the district an additional $67,961 next year. (The figures did not include the new junior high faculty pay.)

Under the teacher pay schedule now in use, increment increase, including classification changes would amount to $29,674, so that the total increase using the new schedule would be $97,635. Board members have deferred any action on the teacher pay until next year's preliminary budget is ready next month.

Increased pay proposals came also last night from the faculty of the adult school, which submitted its own schedule proposing a minimum of $4.75 and a maximum of $6.75 per hour. Current pay ranges from $4.25 to $4.75.

Also last night, trustees voted no on a proposed telephone switchboard system for the school district.

Resignations were accepted from three teachers, Patricia Maxwell, high school English; Ann Bartells, Woods third grade instructor, and Laura Belle Owens, high school home arts.

Forest Theater Revival Of Inchling For Children

and many, many others.

Mrs. Johnson does costuming now for the First Theatre in Monterey, and Mrs. Argo is now Mrs. Bernard O. Weitz of Carmel. Miss Tolmie herself is the current director of Carmel Puppets Incorporated. Among those who assisted with early productions of Inchling has been Mrs. Carl Cherry, director of the Cherry Foundation of Carmel and painter under the professional name of Jeanne d'Orge.

The beloved fantasy was a classic of its kind, and like any classic, can be depended upon to wear well, despite the passage of years. Another performance of Inchling by another generation seems, therefore, well within the realm of possibility.

The event, if realized, would be a feature of the summer recreation program of the school district.

Marjorie Rasor

Mrs. Marjorie Ann Rasor, a Carmel resident for the past 12 years, died Tuesday at her Mission Fields home. She had been ill for some time.

Mrs. Rasor, who with her husband, Robert, owned and operated the Monterey Telephone Answering Exchange, was a native of Tarlton, Ohio, and a member of the Carmel Presbyterian Church.

The Reverend Joseph E. Ewing will conduct funeral services at the church for Mrs. Rasor tomorrow at 11:00 o'clock in the morning with burial to follow at Cementerio El Encinal, Monterey.

Survivors, in addition to her husband, are two young sons and a daughter, Donald, Scott, and Marshella; her mother, Mrs. Genevieve Spangler of Monterey, and a brother, Marshal of Phoenix, Arizona.

Memorial donations in honor of Mrs. Rasor may be made to the American Cancer Society, 246 Pearl Street, Monterey.

Stuart Highlanders bagpipe band from San Francisco.

Commissioner Richard Lofton proposed that the arts commission endeavor to obtain paintings by William Ritschel, Armin Hansen, Sidney Yard, John O'Shea, Paul Dougherty and August Gay for the memorial art museum in the city council chambers.

A painting by the late De Neale Morgan, donated by her sister, Mrs. Jeanie Morgan Klenke was accepted yesterday for exhibition in the museum. Chairman Marjorie Wurzmann appointed Mr. Lofton and Commissioner Rupert Leach to go with her to select a William Silva painting for the museum at the invitation of Mrs. Abbot Silva.

Mrs. Wurzmann was authorized to send a second letter to the Old Vic Shakespearean company as no reply had been received from her previous communication asking the English company if they would perform Romeo and Juliet at the Forest Theater. The second communication will be addressed to impresario Sol Hurok, under whose management the actors appear in this country.
